

Dear Mr Fullerman

I'm writing this letter of apology because I can't hand in my history homework.

But I did do it!

Let me explain, it's a crazy story.

I was doing my homework exercise in my garden when suddenly a zombie went out of the earth and attacked me so I had defended myself with my history book. Luckily the zombie gave up but took my history book with him.

I'm so sorry...

I know I will have to do my exercise again.

I don't want to go in detention.

I promise, I will be more attentive and more hardworking in class.

Tom Gates
