Dear Mr. Fullerman

We had to hand in our math homework for today. I am writing this letter to you because I don't have it I'm sorry. Let me explain.

I was on my way to school when suddenly an army of horrible giant spiders decided to follow me and stole my school bag so I don't have my homework anymore. I'm very very sorry, I don't want to go to detention. I promise I will do it again for tomorrow.
