

HALLOWEEN

TOM GATES

Dear Mister Fullerman,
You asked me to do my presentation about the Queen of England. I'm writing this apology letter because I can't hand in my homework but I did do my presentation!

Let me explain, it's an incredible story.

I celebrated Halloreeen. I was disguised as a ghost and I had a bag of candy in which there was my presentation.

I wanted to show it to my neighbor, who is a history teacher. When I arrived at my neighbor's house to ask for candy and show him my presentation. I saw my history teacher was a skeleton, a real skeleton, not a costume.

I panicked and suddenly he caught me.... I tried to escape from his scary house. He was dangerous and violent.

But I'm alive and I'm good.

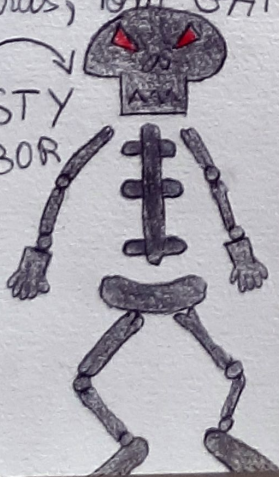

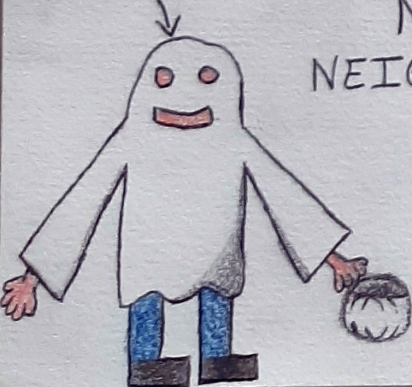

Unfortunately, I had to leave my bag of candy so I lost my homework!

I know. I will have to do my presentation again. I'm so sorry Mister Fullerman.... I don't want to go to detention. I promise I will be good and attentive.

I'm so sorry again.
Best regards, Tom GATES.
